

research FOR THE fUTURE

Research is at the heart of the NHS.

It is only through research that we can discover new ways to prevent, diagnose and manage illnesses.

Research for the Future

is a NHS-supported campaign that helps people find out about, and take part in health and care research.

If you would like to find out more, please complete your details below and hand this card back to the clinician/receptionist or place in the box provided.
